Granollers (Spain)

BENITO's Volga benches installed in the new extension of the Hospital of Granollers.

The Hospital of Granollers has completed its expansion with a new compact building that houses the emergency service and new ICU beds. This building is connected to the existing one through an outdoor space where BENITO has installed a dozen Volga model benches located at different levels of the courtyard that divides the buildings.

The Volga model is an element of the range of white-coloured concrete benches. With an austere design, it is also robust and, in this case, it has been placed both in groups and individually.
