

Gibraltar protects its cycle lanes with flexible bollards with a base for greater safety

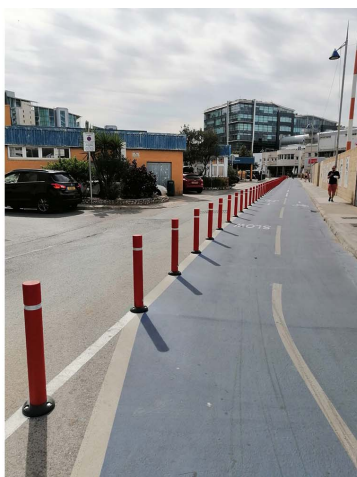

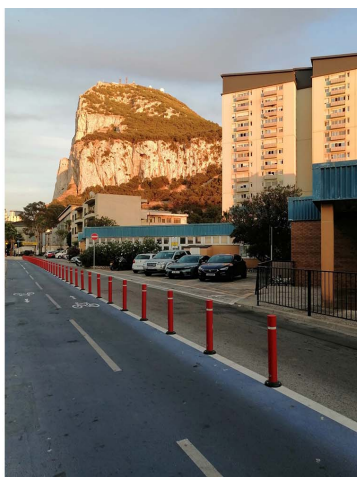

Flexible with Base Plate
HFLEXP

In Gibraltar, dozens of flexible bollards with a base have been installed to protect and provide cyclists with safety. This equipment ensures that cars do not stray into cycle lanes.

The system is complemented with bollards installed at the beginning and end of the cycle lane

The constant improvement and evolution of our products may result in some modifications of the technical specifications and characteristics of the products without prior notice.

The constant improvement and evolution of our products may result in some modifications of the technical specifications and characteristics of the products without prior notice.