In Tallin, new relaxation areas have been created in the city, designed to offer a cozy and rural atmosphere that invites relaxation. These spaces, surrounded by lush vegetation, feature picnic tables made of pressure-treated pine wood, class 4, which protects them from woodworm, termites, and insects. The tables are painted in vibrant colors, enhancing the beauty of the surroundings and adding a cheerful touch to the area. Some are located under natural wooden canopies, providing shelter in case of rain, ensuring that families and friends can enjoy themselves without worrying about the weather.
Did you know that natural wood "breathes"? This means it absorbs and releases moisture in dry environments, which can cause cracking. However, this does not affect its strength or durability. These new relaxation areas are ideal for spending the day, enjoying a picnic, or simply relaxing in a natural setting.

The City Council of Valencia has transformed a parking area located near the Pérez Galdós avenue into a square with a pergola and street furniture, such as benches and picnic tables which, combined with the paving, provide the space with its own design and identity..

The goal was to extend the pedestrian space on an axis with a large influx of vehicles. The Pérez Galdós-Giorgeta avenue is a very busy axis with an important presence of vehicles.

BENITO's Picnick tables are made of pinewood treated in vacuum pressure autoclave class IV against woodworm, termites and insects.
