The city of Valladolid has opted for the installation of Ares loungers, part of the new Benito DESIGN+ collection. This collection aims to humanize urban spaces, creating pleasant and welcoming environments where people can enjoy the outdoors and feel at home.
The Ares lounger stands out for its innovative and functional design, featuring a lateral armrest ideal for resting. Its structure is made of steel, treated with the Ferrus process, a triple-layer protector that guarantees optimal corrosion resistance, ensuring durability and quality over time. The RAL 7006 finish adds a touch of modernity and sophistication. Additionally, the surface of the loungers is made of tropical wood, treated with protective oil, which ensures its resistance to adverse weather conditions.
This project reflects Valladolid's commitment to sustainable urbanism and the creation of high-quality public spaces to improve the lives of its residents.
