The new playground in Santa Coloma de Gramenet, located near Barcelona, represents a step forward toward inclusion and universal play. The space features the PINT modular playset, part of a product line specially designed to promote the participation of all children, regardless of their abilities. Its interactive panels are designed to offer an accessible, fun, and safe play experience, meeting the highest standards of quality and safety.

In addition, the park includes the MER inclusive carousel, a barrier-free installation with no physical limitations, allowing joint use by children with and without disabilities. This carousel has been designed to ensure maximum safety, promoting integration and coexistence in a respectful and stimulating environment. The equipment is completed with Neobarcino benches, which provide comfort and functionality, making the park a modern, welcoming, and accessible space.
